JANUARY EXTRA!

January 2012

New Library Hours

In response to student requests, the Cushwa-Leighton Library is pleased to announce that we will be opening two hours earlier on Sundays, at 11:00 a.m. rather than 1:00 p.m. Reference librarians will be available starting at 1:00 p.m. To compensate for the additional Sunday hours, we will be closing two hours earlier on Fridays, at 8:00 p.m. instead of 10:00 p.m.

A book by any other name

How many books based on movies would you guess are coming out in 2012? Ten? Twenty? How about Sixty-One!

Books have been a major source of movie plots going back to the days of silent films. The guarantee of audience familiarity is a major reason for this. People are anxious to see a film without wondering if the plot will be interesting to them - they know the plot already.

This year's upcoming book-to-film projects are a mixture of the classics and recent bestsellers. If you're looking for some fun reading, or even to refresh your memory about the story before you see the movie, come check the shelves at the Cushwa-Leighton Library! We have a number of the titles available, and would be glad to request any others on Interlibrary Loan for you.

Find it In Our Library

Read ahead! These books, soon to be movies, are available in the Cushwa-Leighton Library:

Hunger Games

The Lorax

Romeo and Juliet

Paradise Lost

The Hobbit

Life of Pi

Finding articles at Notre Dame

Ever have a hard time figuring out how to look for articles in the Notre Dame library? Help is on the way!

In fact, if you go to the Cushwa-Leighton Library's homepage, and click on the GET HELP button, you'll find just what you need! We've added a short guide to using the databases at Hesburgh, from choosing the right workstation to how to save your articles and citations.

Welcome to our new Librarian

The library is delighted to welcome Suzanne Hinnefeld as our new Collection Development / Reference and Instruction librarian! She'll be managing the development of our book collection, as well as handling the licensing of article databases and other electronic resources.

Suzanne is a longtime resident of South Bend who comes to us from her previous position as the head of reference at the Good Library at Goshen College. Her background is in the biological sciences, and she worked in biomedical and biochemical research before pursuing a career as a librarian.

You'll be seeing Suzanne at the reference desk soon, so please stop by and say hello!
